

109325 - Should he do Hajj on behalf of a relative who cannot travel for Hajj?

the question

Is it permissible for a Muslim who has done the obligatory hajj to do Hajj on behalf of one of his relatives in China who is not able to travel in order to do the obligatory Hajj?.

Detailed answer

It is permissible for the Muslim who has done the obligatory Hajj to do Hajj on behalf of someone else if that person is not able to do Hajj himself because he is old or sick with no hope of recovery or because he is deceased, because of the saheeh ahaadeeth which speak of that. But if he cannot do Hajj for a temporary reason that he hopes will pass, such as a sickness from which he hopes to recover or for political reasons or because the route is not safe, then it is not acceptable to do Hajj on his behalf.
