

240598 - The hadith “There is not one of your pomegranates but it is pollinated with a grain from the pomegranates of Paradise” is a fabricated hadith

the question

While I was eating pomegranate, someone told me that there is a hadith that says in one of the thuds in the pomegranate, one little thud is from paradise so one should make intention of something good incase he eats that thud. I wondered if this hadith is authentic or if there arent any hadiths about this at all so I can in shaa Allah tell that person.

Detailed answer

Firstly:

The pomegranate is one of the fruits of Paradise. Allah, may He be exalted, says (interpretation of the meaning):

“in them

(both) will be fruits, and date- palms and pomegranates”

[ar-Rahmaan 55:68].

Ibn Katheer (may Allah have mercy on him) said:

The date-palm and pomegranate are singled out for mention because of their superiority over other fruits. End quote.

Tafseer Ibn Katheer

(7/507)

Secondly:

It was narrated by Ibn ‘Adiyy in al-Kaamil (7/543), and via him by Ibn ‘Asaakir in Tareekh Dimashq (56/186), via Muhammad ibn al-Waleed: Abu 'Aasim told us, from Ibn Jurayj, from Ibn 'Ajlaan, from his father, from Ibn 'Abbaas, who said: I heard the Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) say: "There is not one of your pomegranates but it is pollinated with a grain from the pomegranates of Paradise."

Ibn 'Adiyy quoted it in the biography of this Muhammad ibn al-Waleed, and said: He fabricates hadiths and narrates them as mawsool, he steals, and he tampers with isnaads and texts. I heard al-Husayn ibn Abi Ma'shir say: Muhammad ibn al-Waleed ibn Abaan is a liar. End quote.

Adh-Dhahabi also narrated this hadith, in his biography of him in al-Mizaan (4/59), as one of his false reports.

It was also narrated by Ibn al-Jawzi in al-Mawdoo'at (2/285), via 'Abd as-Salaam ibn 'Ubayd ibn Abi Farwah: Abu 'Aasim told us...

Concerning this 'Abd as-Salaam, Ibn Hibbaan said: He used to steal hadiths and narrate fabricated reports. Al-Azdi said: His hadith is not to be written down. Ad-Daaraqutni said: He is nothing.

Therefore this hadith is false and fabricated.

It should be known that the fruit of Paradise resembles the fruit of this world in name only; as for its reality, there is a great difference between the two, the extent of which is known only to Allah.

Ibn Jareer at-Tabari (may Allah have mercy on him) narrated in his Tafseer (1/392), with a saheeh isnaad from Ibn 'Abbaas (may Allah be pleased with him), that he said: Nothing in Paradise resembles anything in this world, except in name. According to another version: There is nothing in this world of that which is in Paradise, except names.

And Allah knows best.
